STRONGER TOGETHER: Creating a Disaster Response Network

The Ringling has a new lens for looking at our community and its issues and concerns having recovered from Hurricane Irma. The overall goal of this facilitated discussion is to introduce the concept of the disaster response network and have a guided discussion that focuses on: gaining community support and involvement in the development and implementation of a disaster response network; improving disaster preparedness for cultural institutions and arts organizations; and discussing public and private funding and emergency management support to launch a local cultural heritage emergency network.
