

Facilitator Guide:

Extra Extra!!

Participants are asked to work together to write a news article about a recent loan to "their institution." Each scenario will have a unique "monkey wrench" that they have to report on for the article. After each group has completed their story they will share it with the other groups!

- Each group should have a scribe to write down ideas on white board
- Someone to finalize the article (can use the template provided)
- Someone to read the article aloud to all locations

The goal of this project is to:

- Interact with peers from different institutions from around the state or within their institution
- Discuss many possible solutions to problems
- Learn about possible nuances with loans
